

M.S. in Outdoor & Environmental Education Thesis Titles

An Analysis of the Junior Wilderness First Aid (JWFA) Program

Decision-Making Practices in Alaska's Dynamic Mountain Environments: A Study of Professional Mountain Guides

Grounding Girls: Young Women and Place-Based Environmental Education

Exploring Ecology in Alaska: Reflective Storytelling as a Model for Environmental Education

Science Center Connections: What Understandings do Students Retain After a Field Trip?

Evaluation of a Place-Based and Community-Based Education Program: A Case Study

Piloting an Avalanche Advisory Program for Public Recreation in the Chugach Mountains: Strategy, Challenges and Viability

Archery at the Farm: The Development, Implementation and Assessment of a Youth Archery Curriculum

"The Fisheries Lady is Here!": Designing, Implementing and Evaluating the KNA Fisheries Science in the Schools Program

A First-Time Outdoor Experience: Outdoor Recreation and the Enhancement of Environmental Knowledge and Environmentally Responsible Behavior

The Other People in the Group: A Qualitative Study of Parents as Participants in NonFormal Multigenerational Environmental Education Programs

Modeling the Use of Interpretive Panels Within an Environmental Education Curriculum

A Community Needs Assessment of a Children's Garden at Spring Creek Farm
Constructivism in a Youth Bicycle Safety Curriculum

The Effects of Live Animal Contact on Zoo Visitor Conservation Commitment

Beginning Farmer Education in Alaska: What Women Want

Implementing a Place-Based Environmental Lab School at APU's Kellogg Campus

Masters Program Evaluation: A Case Study of an Outdoor and Environmental Education Degree

The Lasting Frontier: Divide Recreation in Hatcher Pass

Urban Environmental Education Program Development Through Neighborhood Mapping